(Scope of Work)

Providing Bandwidth Services for existing VSAT Network and Comprehensive Annual Maintenance Contract (CAMC) for VSAT Systems for a period of 3 years.

CSIR-NGRI is operating V-SAT based seismic stations for continuous monitoring of earthquakes across India in the Extended C band.

The Seismic Stations in Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Maharashtra and Northeast India are connected to the Central Recording station (CRS) at CSIR-NGRI, Hyderabad

1. CAMC for all the existing 30 stations as per the list. Each station consists of the Gilat VSAT IDU equipment with DC input power, 12/24V DC-DC adapter, ODU the Antenna and the cables.
2. Bandwidth services for a total bandwidth of 300 kbps in the Extended C Band.
3. Charges for the Additional bandwidth in lots of 10kbps may be quoted.
4. The seismic data is recorded and transmitted from all the 29 remote seismic stations to the Central Recording Station (CRS) at CSIR-NGRI campus at Hyderabad in VSAT-VSAT to mode on continuous 24x 7 basis. As VSAT systems are used for the critical application of collecting seismic data, the service provider should provide 99.99% data availability at the Central Recording Station (CRS).
5. The VSAT network should support full duplex communication between CRS and each remote field station in the network
6. The successful bidder has to ensure uninterrupted connectivity of VSAT in all the segments of the Network
7. The seismic stations are located at remote locations and the V-SAT service provider should have customer support offices in cities / towns near the seismic station locations especially they should have a customer support office in Northeast. Details of such customer support offices shall be submitted along with the tender.
8. The remote seismic stations are unmanned. They are capable of recording earthquakes unattended for many days. The VSAT system should provide 99.9% data availability throughout the year at any climate condition. The service provider should attend to any problems leading to data loss at CRS immediately. The expected response time is within three hours plus travel time from the nearest customer support office.
9. The 12V DC batteries, battery charger and Solar panels required for the VSAT equipment at the remote seismic stations and CRS will be maintained by the CSIR-NGRI.
10. The service provider shall provide necessary software tools to be installed at the CRS for monitoring the network bandwidth, current VSAT status, link uptime, link down time over period of time specified by the user.
11. The bidder has to submit a certificate conforming compliance to conditions from SI.No. 4 to 10.
12. The bidder shall inspect the sites (if necessary) on prior intimation to CSIR-NGRI and give the acceptance for providing the AMC services and Bandwidth.
